IOP Frontiers of Physics 2021

21st Annual Conference for teachers of physics including Junior Science

Saturday 25th September 2021

Online event

The Institute of Physics Ireland invites you to join us for a day of talks, demonstrations and workshops at the 2021 Frontiers of Physics online conference. Attendees will hear from experts on how they are adapting to new ways of teaching and learning physics and will be able to choose from a number of workshops. The event will close with a showcase of inspiring resources and ideas on how to bring physics to life in the classroom.

This free conference is open to all teachers of physics, including Junior Science teachers, newly qualified teachers and trainee teachers.
